Designer
Brionac, inc.
<http://brionac.jp/>
Brionac, inc. is a design studio which works for various design areas and business consultant . In this internship, I worked as a designer related to product, graphic, and logo designs. I learnt industrial levels of design including manufacturing factors.
Moreover, I worked for event planning, sales, assistant for product photography shooting, and editing images for websites. Those experiences are beneficial not only for developing my design skills and ideas but also understand what clients really want and how designs are used.

- 2020- 21

MDes (Hons) Product Design
Coventry University
Since the experience in my internship, I changed my course from BA to MDes to learn more depth of product design.
Currently working for my final major projects and keep doing individual practices.

- Future

Honestly, I have never been satisfied with my design skills and ideas, so if I can get any opportunities related to any design areas, I'd like to fully use the opportunities develop myself from communication with other people and gathering inspirations.
